

Keys to Successfully Managing a Large Bond Program with Multiple CM Firms

San Francisco Unified School District will share how they have successfully managed their District's Bond Program while engaging multiple Construction Management Firms. You will have the opportunity to see how they manage the workflow on the Owner side, how each of the CM Firms Manage the process on their ends, and how technical project management software is utilized to assist in these communication.

Learning Objectives:

- Unique challenges of managing project teams involving multiple CM Firms.
- How a collaborative capital project management application can assist in bond projects by connecting the entire team to reduce project costs.
- Controlling the flow of project documents like RFIs, submittals, and Drawings across your team to reduce risk.
- Important benefits of linking documents and communications to locations, materials and corresponding documentation on your education project.
- Managing Risk and the change process with your clients.
